HARD CIDER AS BAD AS WHISKY GETS OUT ONLY DOSTLY BOOKS

Judge H. M. Remley, whose de hat hard cider must be classed as whisky under the lows law has given muca discussion and some mis understanding, does not, of course, in-clude sweet cider in his judgment, as was mistakenly stated. Judge Remley's ruling was based on the evidence that the grocer in the case had actually sold hard cider and that the men who drank it became intoxicated. Furthermore, the stuff was analyzed by a chemist, who found that it contained 6 per cent of alcohol.

Tree That Terus to Stone There is a tree that grows in Mexico called the "chijol," or stone tree. It is of enormous proportions, both in circumference and height. It has a number of branches spreading out widely and carrying leaves of a yellowish green color. The wood is extremely fine and easily worked in a green state. It is not given to either warping or splitting. The most remarkable thing about it is that after being cut the wood gets gradually harder, and in the course of a few years it is absolutely petrified, whether left in the open air or buried in the ground. From this timber houses can be built that would in a few years be come completely fireproof, and would last as though built of stone.

Parmer Is Raising Crows. John Wentworth, a Susquehanna county (Pennsylvania) farmer, has started the first crow hatchery in the country and is a pioneer in a brandnew industry. He proposes to make a business of supplying big millinery houses with crows' wings and heads The hatchery is at present compara tively small, as owing to the extreme shyness of the birds Weptworth has succeeded in capturing and raising only about 200 of them, but next conson he expects to have about 2,000 on hand. They will be carefully protected from hunters and liberally fed, so that they will not be tempted to wander from home and pillage the corn fields of farmers in the surrounding country. Wentworth expects to find ready sale for his crop at 50 cents for each head aid 25 cents a pair for wings.

Calere to Militonalese.

There are many publishers in this and other cities whose output is never noticed by the literary critics, for the reason that the volumes they get out are too expensive to be donated to the newspapers. The weeklies and the monthlies for review.

There is, for instance, a publisher in Philadelphis who issued recently an edition of Mark Twain at $15 a volume. He also issued the works of Anthony Hope at the high figure of $750 for the set. He will bring out in the fall a four-volume edition of the "Confesions of Rousseau," for which he will charge $100 a volume. Few people, save his patrons, know what he is doing, and his patrons are chiefly the millionalres of Philadelphia. New York, Chicago and San Francisco. He does not advertise. His books are sold by agents. The agents are not of that humble class which is forbidden to enter office buildings. They are, on the contrary, buildings. They are, on the contrary, imposing persons who travel luxuriously through the country, and who never think of calling on a possible buyer without having first stated their business and arranged for an inter-view by letter. WIFE OF PRESIDENT OF OURA

President Roosevelt's Age. The amazement of the public that a man of 42 should become president of the United States is another proof that this is a period of leadership by younger men. But at 42 one is well out of the nursery. Mr. Roosevelt is eighteen years old than the younger Pitt was when he was prime minister of England, eight years older than Gladstone was when he entered the cabinet, eight years older than Napoleon when he was made First Consul for life, and older than Frederick the Great when he invaded Silesia, or Grant when he took Vicksburg.-Col-Her's Weekly.

The Chinese visiting card consists of a large sheet of bright scarlet paper bearing the name of the owner in very large letters, the larger the better. The paper is folded ten times, and the name is written on the right-hand lower corner, prefixed thus: "Your unworthy friend, who bows his head and pays his respects," "Your very stupid brother," or something to that effect. In place of "Yours truly,"
"Your stupid" is written on the Chinese card. The return of these cards to the visitor is considered etiquette. They are too costly for general dis tribution. So it is necessary that each eard should do duty several times.

Rare Birthdaya.

A birthday is a rare thing for people born on the 29th of February, but they will now have the uncommon experience of doing without one for no less than eight years. In the ordinary course next year would have been leap year, but it becomes necessary every now and again to omit the extra day in four years in order to keep the dates and seasons correct. Hence there will be no Feb. 29 next year, and so those who last had a birthday in 1896 will save to wait till 1904 for another. Laid Up for Sixteen Weeks.

I tried many medicines I saw advertised and others I was recommended; finally I was induced to take Vogeler's Curative Compound, which did me more good than all other medicines. In fact, I feel quite a different man since I have been taking the Compound. All my neighbors and friends are quite surprised to see me about and looking so well. I can only say that Vogeler's Curative Compound taken internally and by using St. Jacobs Oil outwardly acted like magic in my case.
